Version. Autodesk 2017, 2018.Q: Javascript issue with input & javascript I want to scrape through a number of pages on the same site with different parameters. The site has a form with several inputs. The code below displays the first page just fine. However, when I input 'one' and press the 'Go' button, it does nothing. The initial page shows the parameter values input is 'one', but not 'one' after I go through the first page. What am I missing?

Thank you.

function check() { var x=document.getElementsByName('one'); if(x.value=="one") { window.open(""); } }

 A: If you want to check if a given input element actually has a value, you need to write `if(x.value!="")` since you already have checked whether x is valid by getting the element's length. Uses of semipermeable membrane devices for
